Incorporating Interactive Games

Tuesday, October 3, 2006

Event Type:

South GIG Meeting

Presenter:

Deborah Thomas, SillyMonkey, LLC

Content Overview:

The goal of our program is to learn how to incorporate interactive games into all training programs. Participants will learn the fundamentals of designing interactive games and learn how games can help with information retention. Participants will learn how to:

- Design games using the multiple intelligences theories
- Build training activities to use as a presentation technique
- Create games to use as a review model
- Avoid the pitfalls of games
- Present a game to the class for optimum participation
